the overall purpose of human communication is or should be reconciliation it should ultimately serve to lower or remove the walls of misunderstanding which unduly separate us human beings one from another although we have developed the technology to make communication more efficient and to bring people closer together we have failed to use it to build a true global community dr m scott peck believes that if we are to prevent civilization destroying itself we must urgently rebuild on all levels local national and international and that is the first step to spiritual survival in this radical and challenging book he describes how the communities work how group action can be developed on the principles of tolerance and love and how we can start to transform world society into a true community for we know that all things work together for the good for those who love the lord and who are called according to his purpose romans 8 28 a note from me to you life can take us through many changes some good some bad some wrong some right and i believe that it is not by our strength or might alone that we come through but by the word that made this existence for us and a helping hand or two and remember that all things work together in order for you and i to be the best that we can give and have all that we can and to learn to laugh love and cry all that we can in order to enrich our lives and all others well meet as well so let peace be still and try not to worry too much for i know god still has the best hand gods call makes us humble yet tall but mans call makes you stumble and fall the men and women that have made a difference in the world they inhabited that made a difference in the lives of people they never knew had lives that mostly went unheralded by the historians of the world the man from nazareth did not just decide one day that he was going to bring his people back to the creator of their world before he was a man he was a boy before being a boy he was a child before being a child he was the result of the love of a man and a woman expressed in their physical union brought up with an expectation that he would be a blessing to his family and the people of his society he rose to those expectations looking to see good in all the people he encountered he shared his desire that others would see the good growing with the love of both father and mother he shared this love with his siblings and with all he met in his life just into his 22nd year he tells us i was barely past my twenty second year already an elder in my community and running a successful business i know my father would have been proud i was seeking a union with a woman i knew would challenge me to even greater and better service to family community and the god of my fathers what i failed to understand was that i had my priorities out of order his growth is first in his physical maturation this growth is accompanied by growth in his desire to learn all that the men he came in contact with could teach him his learning is not limited by the mother and father he has it is their love that prepares him for his role in life as the husband and father of the family he creates the road less traveled is about the man and what he was given so that he would be prepared to give and to be prepared to then again receive new york times bestseller this life is very difficult to live so the journey of spiritual development to understand and live positively is an arduous road the book helps you discover the nature of relationships helps you understand how dependence and love are different how to become delicate sensitive parents to children how we always live true to ourselves in the keys to success on the road less traveled the authors illustrate the different shades and colors of the word success the book examines the subtle insight that we glean from reflecting on the experiences of life and embracing the nuances of meaning that life presents to us this book is a collection of scott s inner thoughts expressed in his poetry
